What works/materials can I use in E-Textbooks?

Flowchart

Is the work in the public domain? (copyright expired, see http://librarycopyright.net/digitalslider/, copyright transferred to public domain by copyright owner, (3.) work not eligible for copyright protection such as Federal Government works, charts and diagrams consisting entirely of information that is naturally occurring, self-evident facts containing no original authorship, such as standard calendars, height and weight charts, mathematical formulas and equations, and tape measures and rulers.)

Yes  No

Do you have written permission from the copyright owner to use the copyrighted work in the E-Textbook? (permission in an email/letter, creative commons license, subscription agreement from publisher or content provider, license from the Copyright Clearance Center, etc.)

Yes  No

Is the work an “Orphaned Work?” An orphan work is a work no longer in print and after a reasonable search the copyright owner is unknown.

Yes  No

Does the proposed use of the copyrighted work in the E-Textbook comply with the “TEACH Act”? Use the TEACH Act Checklist to determine and document if the TEACH Act authorizes the proposed use.

Yes  No

Does the proposed use of the copyrighted work in the E-Textbook constitute “Fair Use”? Use the Fair Use Checklist to determine and document if Fair Use applies to your situation. Copyright Act Section 107.

Yes  No

Does your proposed use violate the terms of a subscription agreement, license agreement, or other type of written agreement?

No  Yes

You can use the work in the E-Textbook.  You cannot use the work in the E-Textbook.