

MnSCU Office of Internal Auditing
Non-Profit Centers Created by Institutions
Fiscal Year 1999

PURPOSE: Institutions have created non-profit centers that offer custom training and continuing education classes. This chart describes those non-profit centers. Information was obtained through interviews with schools.

| College or University | Center | Purpose |
|-------------------------------------|--|--|
| Minnesota State University, Mankato | Institute for Wireless Education | Provide a competent wireless industry workforce for the future by establishing a model of cooperation among the institutions of higher education, manufacturers and operating companies. |
| Minnesota State University, Mankato | Technology Plus Center | Provide education to community about the use and implications of technology in everyday life. Joint project with the city of Mankato and industry. |
| South Central Technical College | Institute for Wireless Education | Provide a competent wireless industry workforce for the future by establishing a model of cooperation among the institutions of higher education, manufacturers and operating companies. |
| St. Cloud State University | Harold Anderson Entrepreneurial Center | Promote entrepreneurialism in central Minnesota. |